Showdown Hearing With L & N Set For May 27

A "showdown" hearing with the L&N Railroad over the Gulf Coast commuter problem has been scheduled for May-27 at the Hancock County Court House.

This hearing was called by the Public Service Commission.

It was learned that the railroad will present a "tryout" plan at this hearing. It will propose to stop certain trains at Bay St. Louis on a trial basis. If enough passengers do not use these trains, the stops will be eliminated.

The citation by the Public Service Commission specifically notes the failure of the railroad to stop Trains 5, 6, 37, and 34 at Bay St. Louis.

It is expected that all three members of the Public Service Commission will be present at the hearing. The L & N will be represented by attorneys.

"Bay St. Louis must be represented by the people of this area in great numbers to impress the great need for this service if we are to succeed," Mayor John Scafield stated. "All persons with any type of evidence that may help us in the controversy should be present at the hearing," Mayor Scafield added.

This is the hearing which could decide the whole issue. Previous hearings held in Bay St. Louis largely were informal meetings of the railroad, the commission council and interested parties.

No one had any real authority to act.

But on the basis of this new hearing, the Public Service Commission could either order the railroad to make the stops or it could reject the demands of local citizens.

Pearlington Oil Drilling Hits Salt Water

The Sun Oil Co.'s wildcat drilling at Pearlington hit salt water at about 10,000 feet, it was reported.

However, the drillers did find good sand at about 4,800 feet and will go off on an angle about there.

The Sun Oil Company itself will not reveal any official information about this well. However, reports to the Mississippi Oil and Gas Review show drilling progressed about 1,000 feet a week.

This well is the deepest ever attempted in Hancock County.

Rep. Phillips Proposes New Road And Sand Beach Running Length Of County With 'Causeway Cash

ALBERT J. MONTI, waterworks superintendent Phillip Adams, truck driver and Rene Bermond Truck driver, who retired as city employees last Saturday. Monti had been with the City of Bay St. Louis for 22 years, Adams for 16 years and Bermond for 21 and a half years.

Rep. Walter James Phillips has proposed rebuilding the "causeway" and beach road and constructing a sand beach the length of Hancock County under the state legislation's new "causeway bill."

Rep. Phillips made this suggestion Wednesday while explaining the causeway bill to the Rotary Club at the Reed Hotel.

He outlined the plan this way: The "causeway bill" is not only for the proposed causeway to Ship Island, but also for any similar improvements to be voted upon by Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties.

Under this bill, the county board of supervisors can call an election to consider such improvements. If the people approve, then a bond issue is floated.

This bond issue actually costs the people of the county nothing. Here's why:

The bill enables the state to return to the counties one and a fourth cents tax on each gallon of gasoline. This money must be used for retiring these improvement bonds.

If the county does not vote on the bonds, it does not get the kickback from the state. Thus, a county has all to gain and nothing to lose by floating the issue for improvements.

Rep. Phillips told the Rotary members that it would cost roughly two million dollars to rebuild the seawall road and construct a sand beach from Clermont Harbor to the site of the old factory in the Cedar Point section of Bay St. Louis.

"We're now repairing the seawall piece by piece and not getting anywhere," Rep. Phillips said.

"We could take the funds under this so-called 'causeway bill' and really have something—a complete new road and a sand beach," he said.

He also said that Hancock County would enjoy advantages from Harrison County's proposed causeway to Ship Island.

"People would pass through here. That would build the private business—our only real local industry—and would help gas stations and everyone else along the road," he pointed out.

He said that safeguards are written into the bill in an effort to prevent personal profit arising from constructing of the Ship Island causeway. He said that tourists' experts believe the development of Ship Island would fill a great Gulf Coast need—surf bathing.

WHAT KIND OF ADVERTISING IS MOST USEFUL?

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS THE FAVORITE OF HOUSEWIVES

Women rate newspaper advertising as the most useful. Magazine advertising is the second choice. Radio (and now television) is their third choice as a useful medium and first as the kind of advertising that is most distasteful.

Women prefer by a wide margin to have their newspapers and magazine with advertising, while a large percentage favor radio and television WITHOUT advertising.

Newspapers have actually gained in status with the housewives over the years. A survey was conducted recently, and newspapers received 38.95 per cent as the kind of advertising that is most useful, magazines got a 36.23 per cent and radio 15.64 percent.

NEWSPAPER ADS ON TOP

The latest survey, made in the summer of 1953, shows newspapers still on top with 48.6 per cent; magazines, 30 per cent; television, 10.5 per cent and radio 6.4 per cent in answer to the questions to which kind of advertising is the most useful.

TV FACING PROBLEM

"Housewives are actually aware of the new medium, television," said Dr. Charles Allen of Northwestern University, "But TV is making the same kind of unfavorable reception as radio, when TV received 22.4 per cent and radio 27 per cent in answer to what kind of advertising is MOST DISTASTEFUL. Apparently TV commercials are suffering from the same sins as radio commercials."

Reception and length of TV and radio commercials were cited as the most frequent reasons given for TV-radio advertising being distasteful. Singing commercials and jingles came next as objectionable features.

It would seem that the best kind of advertising is that which performs a service, such as newspaper advertising does for the average housewife, observed Dr. Allen.

"Like the old man said, I look to see whether a boy can hit, run and throw," said George Digby, the youngest baseball scout in the Boston Red Sox organization.

George, who lives in Waveland, gets paid by his gosses to watch ball games with a keen eye for future major league talent. When the baseball season starts he travels the south looking in on high school and college games for two months. After this, when the summer is in full swing, he concentrates on the minor leagues and the American League teams.

What does he think a boy has to have to make good in our national pastime? "Well, like I said, a boy has to have at least two of those qualities mentioned. But more than that, a scout has to take a boy apart. What I mean is that you have to see if the boy is a good competitor. Whether or not he is a clutch player. If a boy loves the game enough and really puts his heart into it, yet doesn't have as much ability as someone else who doesn't hustle, he will be a better bet to make the big leagues," said the former New Orleans Holy Cross coach.

"Another prime factor is size and a good pair of hands. A kid's background is important. His temperament and willingness to learn. You have to realize that when you are dealing with a baseball player, you are dealing with human beings. Not a machine. To make the grade you have to have it inside."

Digby, who was recently named to Gernon Brown's all time Jesuit baseball team, has signed such

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

You are talking with the distressed-looking young man, Rich and Gardner, in one corner of the railroad station.

"I can't believe that Jack is dead," he exclaims. "We were such close friends - through school then the army. In fact, we thought so much of each other that when we went into our hardware business together, we insured each other's lives so that if anything happened to either of us, the other would be able to carry on. And now, Jack Prather is dead!"

when doctor examined him and he was dead!"

"Didn't the sudden stop by the train throw you, too?" you ask.

"It would have if I hadn't been leaning against the side of the door. Grabbing that was what probably saved me from falling off the train, too."

"Well," you then say, "no matter what you grab onto now, it won't save you from coming with me on suspicion of having murdered your partner for his insurance money!"

Why do you suspect this?

SOLUTION

"Suppose you tell me the whole story," you prompt him.

"Jack and I were on the train, headed for our college class when in Chicago. We were standing at the little door at the end of the rear car, smoking and talking. Jack was half-seated on the railing when suddenly, without warning, the train came to a sudden stop.

"The stop must have caught him unawares, because he pitched over the railing backwards and onto the tracks. He must have struck his head on one of the rails, because it was fractured.

is your "best buy" in the lowest-price field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.

Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few:

Front Wheel Brakes
Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.

Seat Springs
Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "spring-on-springs" design adds more comfort.

Piston Rings
Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output, increased oil economy, too!

Micronic Oil Filter
Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

COASTING

By ANNE ORLEANS

The John McDonough celebration in New Orleans last Friday, gave four teachers a long week end in which to forget or thresh out controversial teaching subjects.

Grace Gillean, Ruth Little and Wally Hall came over with Dorothy Kelly to her pretty cottage in Waveland. Dorothy's place is named, HICKORY-OAK because a hickory tree has grown through a big branch of the oak tree.

Grace and Wally teach at Sophie Wright High School, formerly a girl's school, on Napoleon Avenue, and Ruth and Dorothy teach at Alcee Fortier High School formerly a boy's school on Ferret Street. These schools are now co-educational.

At the Bay Gordon home, all the family over for Mother's Day. Carol and Evie and their baby, Billy. Jack and Billy, the Gordon sons and Kay Boh whose husband, Bobby Boh, is now in the U. S. Army and stationed in South Carolina. There were many lovely gifts for Mrs. Gordon. She and Mr. Gordon and the children spent most of the weekend fishing and sailing.

Letters to Cynthia and Billy Richardson from their daughter Elaine, now in England bring the good news that she, Ronald and the children are comfortably settled in their new home, The Chestnut, in the town of Gainsborough.

They stopped in London to pick up their new car, a Vauxhall, smaller than a Ford, bigger than a Crosley but much narrower than any American car. That, of course, is a must because of the very narrow roads in England.

Ronnie's school is across the street and he is getting acquainted with the English boys and girls and doing very nicely in his lessons. He gets a hot lunch at school every day. He has roast beef, potatoes, green vegetables and dessert for seventy five cents a week. Milk is free for school children.

Elaine's most efficient maid comes every day except Sunday and stays from eight to twelve every morning for six dollars a week.

Like all other households in England, they have a very nice vegetable garden. The flower garden are beautiful at this time. Roses, peonies, larkspur, and all beautiful Spring flowers make colorful pictures everywhere. Even the London shops, big and little have window boxes in front of the stores filled with blossoms.

They are situated not far from the East coast of England and have driven to the seashore. Right now the weather is perfect. No rain for a whole month.

They have made many new friends among the young aviators and their wives who have come to the Aircraft School from English countries all over the world.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rees over only through Saturday and having friends in for a Saturday night barbecue. Back to New Orleans on Sunday for a big Mother's Day celebration with the children and grandchildren.

Jane Blair McMillan and Patsy, the baby came down from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., for a visit with her mother and father, Marie Louise and Drevry Blair. This is Jane's first visit in two years so you can imagine how fast those days slipped by. Mrs. A. P. Smith entertained at lunch for Jane so that all her friends could have a grand talkfest about new home, new babies and such.

Drevry Blair had to go to Pittsburgh recently, so he went by way of Washington, D. C., and stayed overnight with Clay and Agnes Kemp Blair and the children.

Could anything be lovelier than the flowers in bloom at this time? Oleanders, white, red, peach, and pink. Does anyone have a pure yellow oleander? The Amann's in Waveland have a light yellow. The day lilies are everywhere but if you want to see real variations of color in this flower, you have to go to Dr. Walter Hava's garden. Have you noticed the lovely climbing pink rose that is replacing the scarlet roses on the white fences? Do hope you did not miss the effective picture that Mrs. Max Kohler achieved with her planting in her garden on North Beach. From the front gate to the porch, were two rows of beautiful snow white Easter lilies. Next came deep blue larkspurs and then a border of yellow and orange nasturtiums. Most effective.

No one can be more generous with her home on the Coast than Donald and Virginia Halsey. Sisters, uncles, aunts, nieces and nephews, all make use of the Halsey home and swimming pool. Week before last, Herbert and Noel Williams and the baby, Kathy, spent a long weekend. During the week following, Gertrude Logan and Adele Williams, Virginia's mother and aunt were there. Also visiting were Walter and Peggy Simpson and their little daughter, Wendy. Last Sunday, Adele Williams, Junior, had a crowd over from New Orleans for swimming and outdoor lunch. Horse-shoe pitching kept a lot of arguments going all afternoon.

A busy weekend at hospitable Pine Shadows, the home of Dr. and Mrs. John F. Dicks. Corinne and Carroll Bobb and Amy Hewes Flower were their guests from New Orleans and several couples from Pass Christian came in on Sunday afternoon.

Recent guests of Col and Mrs. Marcel Gillis are so disappointed in this so-called Sunny South. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gibson of Toledo, Ohio, came down for a visit expecting to get a heavy sun tan and wear nothing but summer clothes. You know what happened. This totally unexpected cold spell, probably left over from January and had to be used, arrived and the furnace had to be turned on for the length of their visit.

Their next guests, their daughter Martha, and husband, Henry Restarick and the children, Henry, Jr., David and Martha Cafery will be down soon to spend a couple of months. They will probably get the weather the Gibsons expected.

All the many friends of the former Lucille Minor Mortimer and Bill Wiegand delighted with their recent marriage. They will live at the Pass.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wise left Friday for a four-week motor tour of the midwest and South, where they will visit points from Ada, Okla., to Huntington, W. Va. They expect to return the first of June.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. It is up to the man or to the woman, who have just been introduced to say, "I'm glad to have met you, when leaving each other?"

A. The man should take the initiative, while the woman responds with a smile and a "thank you."

Q. When is the spoon for the after-dinner coffee placed on the table?

A. This spoon is brought in with the coffee when it is served.

Q. When eating in a public place, and an error is made in your order, should one call the headwaiter and complain?

A. This is not necessary. Merely call the waiter's attention to it pleasantly. It is only when the waiter becomes rude or abusive about it that one should call the headwaiter.

Q. Is it all right to ask, "Who is this," or, "What number is this," when making a phone call and someone answers whose voice you do not recognize?

A. This is too often done, and it is extremely ill-bred. The correct thing always is to ask the person with whom you wish to speak.

Q. What is the proper time of day to make a call of condolence?

A. This call may be made at any time of the day.

Q. Why is it necessary for the parents of the bridegroom to call at the home of the bride?

A. Because the girl is not welcomed by the family until they do so. This call should be made as soon as the news of the engagement has been received.

Q. Is it all right to refuse a cigarette someone has offered you, if you prefer your own brand?

A. Yes; but be sure to refuse graciously and with a smile, saying, "Thank you, I have some."

Q. What is the proper way to introduce one's father to a woman?

A. A proper introduction would be, "Mrs. Brown, this is my father."

County Agent Notes

HORN FLY CONTROL

Horn flies cost you money. They reduce gain on beef cattle and cause a drop in milk production from dairy cattle. Get rid of 'em.

You can spray your cattle for horn fly control, or you can let the cows treat themselves. Here is how. Build a back rubber. Agricultural Extension Service county agents have detailed plans for the construction of the home-made back rubber and they can also tell you what materials to use on the back rubber.

Insecticide to keep a back rubber saturated during the entire fly season, about 8 months, will cost from $2.00 to $4.00.

TEMPORARY GRAZING

Farmers who are going to need supplemental grazing around June 1 should plant Sudan or millet now. It will be ready in 20 to 30 days after planting.

Planted in rows and using the same amount of fertilizer, Sudan and millet will yield more grazing than if planted broadcast. Only about a third as many seed will be needed. Millet has some advantages over Sudan. It can be grazed first when about 12 to 15 inches tall. Sudan should be 20 to 30 inches high. Millet will grow later into the hot season, will sucker better and won't rush like Sudan. Farmers are advised to plant only on third of their needed temporary grazing right now. Then plant one third in three weeks and another third three weeks after that.

champ, Tomena Cusimano, Kathryn Roussel, Bessie Ceras, Fannie Wheeler and Hattie Bennett.

Apply fertilizer at the same time as planting. Do not wait to top dress, because if you do, you will lose valuable growing time.

ORCHARDS

Now is a good time to severely head back or even "de-horn" old peach trees that failed to set a crop this year. Such trees can have the proper shape restored by pruning. It will help develop vigorous new growth.

First remove all dead or injured limbs. Then head back tall or long branches as needed. Be sure to leave enough branches to shade the trunk and large limbs to prevent sunscald.

Youngberries and boysenberries may be damaged by diseases unless all growth is cut off and burn just as soon as the harvest season is over.

The vines will make plenty of clean new growth in June after they have been cut back.

As soon as canes are removed, make application of fertilizer and cultivation throughout the growing season. Do not prune plants that were set out this spring.

FIRE FIGHTING EQUIPMENT

Now is a good time to check your fire fighting defense. Every farm should have an adequate supply of water available for use in portable pumps and fire trucks.

Fire extinguishers should be placed near all hazardous locations, such as the barns, machine shed and storage tanks for gasoline and kerosene. Make sure that your extinguishers are re-charged regularly.

Have enough garden hose and a filled bucket of water handy for each 400 to 500 square feet of floor space. Have ladders that will reach the highest flammable roof.

WHEN YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL OR RENT, ADVERTISE IT IN THE CLASSIFIED COLUMNS OF THE SEA COAST ECHO.

According to the weather man conditions should be OK for Friday night for the "Round-Up." The tide should be right and plenty of lights. Let all turn out for the occasion.

Bill Petty, Frank Presley and Red Jackson, guests of Bob Genin and all with the Sun Oil Co., of Dallas, Texas, weren't floundering around when they caught 400 pounds of speckles in 2 days last week. They made the trip on J. C. Baxter's boat. These folks love fishing and come a outfield and first base for Jesuit, with teammates like Connie Ryan and Charlie Gilbert. While in high school he made all prep and all state in both baseball and basketball.

He coached three years at Holy Cross and had three city and state baseball champions.

After this he was recommended and received his present position. He has built himself up over these years. He is now one of the four supervisors in the scouting end of the team.

He has "bird dogs" who are men who check for talent in their towns, in all the principal cities of the South. Some of these are coaches, some are newspaper men.

At this point it was getting late so George bid this writer good night, for the next morning he had to hit the road early to cover a game in Louisiana. He had to have a sharp eye opened for that fresh new talent, who some day may be another Ted Williams or Stan Musial.

But like George said, "Guys like that come along once in ten years. They are a scout's dream."

ROYAL TERN

Among the virtues worshipped ordinarily by man are beauty and courage. If the possession of these gifts is accompanied by unique skill in at least one field and if there is evidence that the subject knows his way around the world, then his popularity rating is bound to rise. If we accept these tenets, we must hold in high esteem the Royal Tern.

Our Royal Tern qualifies for a high rating as a beauty queen, whether we base our judgment on the animal at rest or in motion. Gleaming white, jet black and rosy red seem to be arranged in consummate skill to attract our attention. As is so often the case with vain beauties, the spectacular colors are on the head. While most of the bird is white there is a striking dash of black on the head and the 1/2 inch bill is either orange red or yellowish red with a black tip.

We spoke of courage as a criterion for judging worth. We may admire a Kingbird when it chases a crow from its nesting territory or a hummingbird when it sails into a larger bird at times but usually these are acts of self defense and not of selfish aggression.

Our Royal Tern nests in colonies on sandy bars and islets, laying its 1 to 4, white-to-dull ivory eggs in a mere hollow in the sand.

Using precautions while running an outboard motor is the same as driving your car. Slow down when rounding corners in the bayous and at the mouth of the stream. It's smart and safer for others still fishing and the like. One bird had to take to the marsh - just Sunday to avoid hitting a large boat.

The golf bug is thriving just now. Several new faces have been seen at the Pass Christian Isles Golf Course lately, among whom were Boule Blanchard, Rev. C. Johnson and now Alden Mauffray is considering joining the ranks. Golf does something to you!

Wednesday night's fight between Wallace and Gilliam wasn't so hot - seems like they were big enough to hit the canvas!

This Foster-Frye combination seems to be the top at the P-C-I Golf Course. The girls are really taking things seriously.

Seems like Gregory Favre, Echo sports writer should take up golf. He is really shooting those "snaps" and "scoops" around par!

A barbecue for members and guests of the P-C. Course will be held tomorrow night, at 6:30 p. m. Let's meet and eat!

Gus Aimes and Lawrence Jacob made a nice catch of green trout and perch up Bayou La Croix last week. "The water is good, and he hooked some real ones," Gus said.

Using the Highway bridge for crabbing and fishing is becoming more and more popular each week. Many hard crabs are being caught by the hundreds and some nice fish are being landed. There's room for all.

A. J. Burke Takes Third Place In State Track Meet

St. Stanislaus' only representative in the state track meet, A. J. Burke, finished third in the broad jump.

Burke, whose effort was 20 ft. 5 inches, qualified for the state by finishing second in the regionals held last week.

Burke, who was accompanied to the State meet by Coach Farley Day, also finished fourth in both the high hurdles and discus in the regionals.

He has led the Stanislaus team throughout the season. He was high point man for them in every meet this year, and also accumulated more points in the district meet than any other competitor with a total of 13.

Gus Aimes and Lawrence Jacob made a nice catch of green trout and perch up Bayou La Croix last week. "The water is good, and he hooked some real ones," Gus said.

Using the Highway bridge for crabbing and fishing is becoming more and more popular each week. Many hard crabs are being caught by the hundreds and some nice fish are being landed. There's room for all.

This Foster-Frye combination seems to be the top at the P-C-I Golf Course. The girls are really taking things seriously.

CROWNING CEREMONY—Boston Edmondson and June Swayne, officers of the junior class, place the crown on the heads of Carl Gust and Rose Price, king and queen of the St. Rose de Lima junior-senior prom. The prom was held in the St. Rose gym Monday night. Mello Macks Orchestra, an outfit from Keesler field, supplied the music.

PASS MAY QUEEN—Marie Malini, who will reign as the St. Joseph Academy of Pass Christian May Queen. The festival will be held in the school gym St. May 16.

the cream is sold in bulk for 50 cents a quart and 30 cents for a pint.

The Dairy Freeze will deliver for your parties anywhere in Waveland.

At Wilson Weber's Dairy Dream, situated next to the new bridge on Highway 90. The malts and milkshakes are being sold in quantities now to travelers and to the folks who go fishing and crabbing on the bridge. These are 25 cents each.

This establishment uses the Blue Ribbon mix, which is a 1st milk product, also low in butterfat and therefore more to the liking of the dieting ladies and gentlemen.

In bulk, the Dairy Dream puts out a fruit mixture of cherry, pineapple and coconut flavors called "honeymoon." This, and other bulk flavors cost 55 cents per quart and 30 cents per pint. Weber has a large parking area and arrangements can be made with him to hold beach parties on

Buyers' Mart

The Dairy Queen, Dairy Freeze and Dairy Dream, which dispense frozen milk concoctions within easy reach of Bay St. Louis and Waveland residents are again open for hot weather business. We paid them each a call this week to see what was new in their line of refreshments.

The newest of the trio of Dairy operators is Lyle Winkelpieck, who just recently took over the Dairy Queen, located across the street from Bay High School.

Winkelpieck and his wife came here from Kansas and they are planning to add some new equipment and a larger line of Dairy Queen flavors shortly.

The Dairy Queen trade mark is the cone with the curl on top, which means your ice cream (which is really ice milk, what with the low butterfat content of the product) is served to you with a loop on its peak.

This establishment specializes in brown derbies, a chocolate dipped cone, and also has a new fruit salad topping for dairy queens this year.

In bulk you can buy Dairy Queen products for 30 cents a pint, 55 cents a quart and two quarts for 98 cents.

The Dairy Queen will supply you with desserts already made up for your parties, if you call them in advance. And they will deliver this order complete at the time you need to serve it.

At Scrimshaw's Dairy Freeze in Waveland, Scrimshaw has developed the excellent practice of making up his ice cream in such a fashion it does not freeze hard even after staying in the deep freeze box for days. You can buy here strawberry, chocolate or vanilla cream and serve it later at just that soft consistency so desired by the customers who want their cream as it comes from the machines.

Of course, Scrimshaw's has separate toppings for its sundaes and his waterfront.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone who in any way helped in my election as member of the County School Board for District No. 1.

I hope we can work together for better schools in Hancock County.
